East Windsor High School

Our life is like some vast lake that is slowly filling with the stream of our years.

*As the waters creep surely upward, the landmarks of the past are one by one submerged.
But there shall always be memory to lift its head above the tide until the lake is overflowing.*

Poems and Prayers and Promises

*I've been lately thinking about my life's time
All the things I've done and how it's been.
I can't help believing in my own mind;
I know I'm going to hate to see it end.*

*I have to say it now,
It's been a good time all in all.
It's really fine to have a chance to hang around . . .
And talk of Poems and Prayers and Promises
And things that we believe in.
How long it's been since yesterday
And what about tomorrow?
And what about our dreams?
And all our memories we share?
The days they pass so quickly now,
Nights are seldom long,
Time around me whispers when it's cold.
Changes somehow frighten me.
Still I have to smile . . .
For though my life's been good to me;
There's still so much to do.
So many things my mind has never known.
I'd like to raise a family,
I'd like to sail away,
And dance across the mountains on the moon.
I have to say it now,
It's been a good time all in all.
It's really fine to have a chance to hang around . . .
Talk of Poems and Prayers and Promises
And things that we believe in.*

Class Motto

DESIDERATA

GO PLACIDLY AMID THE NOISE AND HASTE, AND REMEMBER WHAT PEACE THERE MAY BE IN SILENCE. *As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself.
Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful.
Strive to be happy.*

As the Class of 1975 we have ascended the mountain of humanity by scattering seeds of good will along the way. Even now we await the clearing of the mist and the vision of our mountaintop. In view of this, we dedicate our yearbook to the quest that each of us will someday reach the sun-tipped heights of our own life-experiences.

Mr. Pippin and Miss Strong: Thank you for being there when we needed you most. Your thoughtfulness and guidance will be long remembered and cherished as the years pass.

Class History

As the curtain rose on the Class of 1975 we anxiously awaited the start of Act I.

Our screen test began as we adopted minor roles such as kangaroos, elephants, donkeys, and other assorted beasts. Due to limited supplies, we depended upon the Senior's "better" judgement in choosing our wardrobe and make-up. The girls wore party dresses and fancy hairdos while the boys were dolled up in shirts, ties, and gym shorts; we were certainly star material. For an encore our officers: Sandy Cloutier, Jane Fortin, Pam Crabb and Diane Bancroft each received shaving cream pies, as our stage managers Mr. Pippin and Mrs. Lazaroski stood by in the wings.

After a thorough screen test by the senior members, we signed a four year contract with "East Windsor High Productions;" and then proceeded to celebrate such success by having a dance where we were rewarded for our outstanding performance with Senior slaves.

In order to continue our theatrical careers, funds were raised by having a spaghetti dinner. This smashing success marked the curtain fall of Act I. However, Harold Woods bowed out at curtain call while Vincent Franco carried on as solo, awaiting a new Co-Owner for Act II.

At the beginning of Act II room was made for newcomers Joanne Couture, Manager; Mel Kleckner, Booking Agent; June Garon, Script Girl; and Karen Mattesen, Financial Agent. We also acquired a new Stage Manager, Miss Strong and a new Co-Owner, Philip Morton, who seemed to be real "show people" and we took a liking to them immediately.

Our first scene found the performers in the jungle with the theme, "Crowned with the Power to Win." A production of this sort was a rare occurrence at East Windsor High Productions but with our inborn talent we were able to surpass all others.

We then decided to "light-up" the town by satisfying the ever-increasing demand for light bulbs. This effort undoubtedly put all our names up in lights. We also found ourselves hustling and bustling with other bookings across the Atlantic in Spain and as far north as Gorham, New Hampshire.

Spring arrived and our actors moved to the amphitheatre in the rear of the high school. Once on location we manned the "nickel pitch" and were able to make final payments on our class rings which we received the day after the curtain fell on Act II.

But, alas, all good things must come to an end as was the case with Mr. Franco's position as Co-Owner. In order to broaden his career he left us . . . feeling sad but nonetheless hopeful that he would succeed in his future ventures.

As Act III got underway, we came face to face with rough and ready Salvatore Saitta who proved to us he really knows the business. Other prominent figures were Mel Kleckner, Nancy George, Sharon Hannaford, and Jane Fortin.

Our busy schedules were not enough. The management hit us with a more hectic rotating schedule. Needless to say it took a little longer for our performers to learn their lines.

We then found ourselves in outer space with the theme, "Launched into Victory." And that's just what it was. A sell out! Standing room only. A victory for the second year in a row.

- That was just the beginning of success for this theatrical group. The next scenario was the Junior Prom, and what better show place than the Colony in Vernon. Music was supplied by the "Mystics" who were greatly appreciated and well received.

Our leading lady and supporting actor for the evening were Susan Joyner and Ron Cramer. Understudies were Maureen Margotta and Don Levesque, Kris Gowdy and Ed Bowsza, Cindi Palangio and Barry Griffin, and June Garon and Michael Lynch.

As we prepared for the departure of our friends and the closing of Act III, we were anxiously awaiting our Seniority. And who could ever forget these actors impersonating their friends and giving the audience the finest performance they have ever witnessed! The star of this show was Jim McDonald doing his impression of our own Mr. Morton.

Thus, came the end of Act III with Eric Jay and Joanne Couture representing the actors at Commencement Exercises.

At long last Act IV got underway with our Manager - Sandy Cloutier; Booking Agent - Kris Gowdy; Script Girl - Sharon Hannaford; and Financial Agent - Jane Fortin.

At curtain rise of Act IV our performers found themselves in the wild west show with the theme, "Showdown at the NCCC Corral." With spunk and enthusiasm, our actors gave themselves a well deserved standing ovation; as we were the first class in recent history to win the pep rally three years in a row.

The Senior Banquet enabled our performers to finally get their night-on-the-town and we were never better than this night. It was an evening to be long remembered.

Snow fell on East Windsor High School and the actors proceeded outside during noon intermission to build a snowman by the roadside. The cafeteria audience seemed very entertained, for smiles could be seen on many faces.

The Christmas spirit overcame our stars and we put on the performance of the season in the cafeteria by singing to the newcomers and older proteges. We even had our own Co-Owner, Mr. Saitta, tapping his foot and smiling merrily.

As the curtain falls for the final time, the Class of 1975 lines up to take their final bows. For us this is not a retiring but a new beginning. Faced with bigger challenges in a world of more important roles and larger productions. We have hopefully left those at East Windsor High School a little more entertained and fulfilled.

'Super Mex' will graduate from hair, jeans, English

By DAVID SYLVESTER
Staff Reporter

EAST WINDSOR — Eighteen-year-old Jesus Martinez will graduate from East Windsor High School Friday and end two years of blue jeans, long hair, the English language and sports.

Jesus, pronounced Hay-soos and called "SuperMex" by his classmates, came from Durango, Mexico, a town of 150,000 in 1973. Sponsored by the International Fellowship program, he stayed with three East Windsor families. Then, sponsored by the high school, he returned this year and stayed with High School Principal Philip Morton's family.

"I wanted to learn about the United States and learn how to speak English," he says.

And that was his first obstacle, phonetics.

"In Spanish you pronounce a word the way you read it, but here it's different," he says. It took him three months to just learn the basics.

Now he speaks fluently, searching for an occasional word, but free of the American ums and uhs. His English will help him get a job in Mexico, he hopes.

East Windsor

After phonetics, came snow. For Jesus, that meant sports: skiing, ice skating, and even sledding. He had only seen snow once before in Mexico.

Later came long hair and jeans. Now ear-length for his August return home, his hair grew past his shoulders for the first time during his stay here.

"Last year I went back to Mexico with my jeans and my work shirts and long hair and my mother was a little disappointed in me. She expected something better, she said. I didn't dress that bad before," he says, lounging in a grey-T-shirt imprinted with a red Harvard University seal.

He also has been one of East Windsor's outstanding athletes, receiving last Wednesday the Most Outstanding Soccer Player award at the Athletics Award Banquet. As a forward in soccer, he received a 1974 Varsity letter, was the 1975 top scorer in the school and was second top scorer in the North Central Connecticut Conference.

The biggest difference between Mexican life and American is that Mexican families are closer he says. "In Mexico, when you get married, you are still part of the family. But it seems here that you leave right away and are no longer in the family."

He also thinks the school system here gives students more opportunities to learn.

"Here, you have so many laboratories and more equipment. At my private school in Mexico, you learned things mainly from books."

Next year he hopes to enter Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Daytona Beach, Fla., to become a commercial pilot.

from Fayerweather Island, Bridgeport, would need subsidies of less than $7 a vehicle for 500,000 vehicles yearly. Other Connecticut crossings considered were Stamford - Lloyd Point, Sherwood Point - Anken Meadow, Bridgeport Harbor - Port Jefferson, East Haven - Wading River and Guilford - Centerville. Also studied were crossings from New York and Port Chester in Westchester County, N. Y.

robbery

In an unrelated incident, Castagna was arrested on assault charges early Saturday morning following a fight in the parking lot at the Lord Cromwell Inn in Cromwell. State police said Castagna was arrested on third degree assault charges. Also arrested on breach of peace charges was Aldo DiPietro of Newington. State police were called to the parking lot about 1:30 a.m. to break up the fight. Details of the incident were not available, but state police source said Castagna and DiPietro apparently got into an argument with some college students. A July 21 court date was set in court of Common Pleas in Middletown for the two on the charges.

Meriden murder charge due

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP) — A former mental patient faces arraignment today on a murder charge in the burning death of a 71-year-old woman he had never seen before.

Mark Harrington, 22, formerly of Suncook, N.H., was held over the weekend on a $100,000 bond.

The victim, B. Lillian Bowen, died Saturday at Yale-New Haven Hospital from second- and third-degree burns over 60 per cent of her body.

Mrs. Bowen, a widow and gift shop employe, was leaving a beauty parlor Friday when she was approached by a young man who tossed flammable liquid on her and set her afire in front of the salon, police and witnesses said.

Witnesses said the man watched her burn for a while and then ran. Before Mrs. Bowen collapsed from the flames she said, "I didn't know him. He threw acid at me. I can't stand it."

Chief of detectives John W. Roberts called the burning "just a crazy isolated incident" for which there was no apparent motive.

He said Mrs. Bowen and Harrington "had never seen each other."

Police records show that Harrington, who had been in Meriden for two weeks to visit relatives, had been admitted to a state mental institution in Concord, N.H., several times in 1973 and 1974.

But by bringing some of the artifacts above water he said "each becomes its own little history book with a unique role in American history, both above and under water."
